Awards Committee

Congratulations to Elizabeth Holman, the 2010 NCAEHA James M. Wordsworth Scholarship winner. Elizabeth is pursuing her DrPH in Environmental and Occupational Health at the George Washington University and currently works for the EPA.

Public Health Policy Committee

There was no public health policy activity for the year ending July 1, 2010.

Professional Development Committee

At the Fall Educational Conference the committee proctored the NEHA REHS and CP-FS credential exams for seven members and non-members. Five credential candidates were offered scholarships upon successful proof of passing their respective credential exams. The scholarships were limited to NCAEHA members and awarded through a lottery system. The efforts of the Professional Development Committee encourage environmental health professionals to meet industry standards.
